

SKIM READING GUIDE

This opportunity is only for those who are serious about solving our core existential problems — problems of our own making. This is not a conventional venture capital “5-minute look” plus a 30-minute, 15-slide presentation leading to a decision. Our biggest problems just aren’t that simple.

Creating Accessible Economic Security, for everyone — there’s a lot in this, the same way there’s a lot in a car or an aircraft if you’ve never seen one before. It’s addressing national, systemic problems in the very fabric of our country, and the more visible, complex, entangled, cross-pollinating problems caused and continually fueled by those underlying systemic problems.

Understanding the unusual nature of the solution requires explaining those problems, and how this solution meets a unique set of requirements.

But using the ‘product’ is trivial compared to driving a modern car — or even riding a bike — and requires nothing new from people or organizations. It’s under the hood where the ‘magic’ occurs.

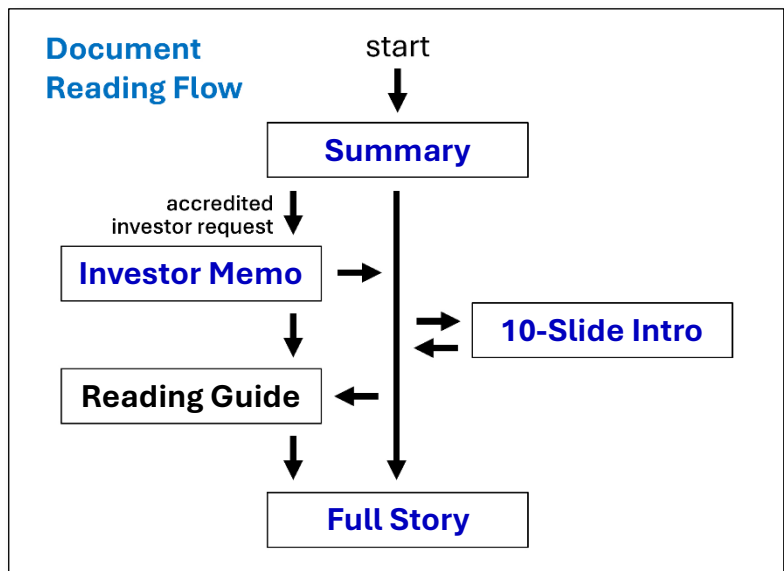

Our story, the main Creating Accessible Economic Security document, walks you through what’s under the hood.

This Skim Reading Guide is designed to make that journey as quick and simple as possible — to help you assess, in the easiest possible way, whether this is something you want to support or not.

If you haven’t already seen them, a quick look through the Summary and the 10-Slide Intro will also help.

To the right is a suggested sequence for reviewing the documents. And below are three suggested paths for skim reading the main document.

The full story is 87 pages. It explains our core problems as a nation, how this solution solves them, how and why it works, and its unusual nature. The page numbers below refer to the main document — there is a Section Index on the last page.
